The Power Behind

The Power Behind

The Pirst Congregational Church of El Paso invites the attention of all to the publication. The Power Behind.

It contains the pulpit utterances (we came near asying the inspiration of Rex. Miles Hamson, pastor, and those of us who heard them delivered felt they should be preserved in permanent form. His talks are so candid and henest in their confessions of man's imitations, yet, so lit with simple deep and leving thoughts of him and with glowing conceptions of his spiritual possibilities, and so uplifting is the inspiration they have given us all, that we want all others to get in touch not only with those thoughts, but, through them, it may be with the man who uttared them.

His quiet little church is at the corner of Williams and Hib Grande streets.

BORDER RIFLEMEN CARRY NEW RIFLES ALONG STREETS

NEW RIFLES ALONG STREETS

Members of the Border Rifle stub added a louch of the warlike atmosphere to RI Paso Friday night. It was a coincidence that the club's rifles arrived on the day of the military maneavers and subsequent scare.

The rifles were distributed at the chamber of commerce Friday night and many members were seen climbing outo street cars, walking along the sireets and through the parks with their rifles deer their shoulders as II
they were going to war.

To increase the memberance of the rifle club to 1000 trained riflemen is the aim of the organization. The present membership is 400 and new applications are coming in duity, said Geo.
C. Keys, secretary. "We believe we will have our 100 before very long."
The club held a meeting in the chamber of commerce building Friday night.
The principle object of the meeting was to distribute about 100 rifles which had been received on requisition from the federal government. The guns are Springfields, model of 1901, and model of 1838, and Krugs of the old army type. Requisitions for 29 additional
